RECRUITING FOR GREAT AVIATION COMPANIES

Brad Stemmler is the Managing Director for Aviation Search Group, LLC, an executive aviation recruiting company. As a former band member, when Brad says, "let's get the band back together," he's serious. Brad is best described as honorable, smart, reliable, devoted, analytical and enthusiastic about his career. He's guessed the final Jeopardy answer before seeing the questions three times.

He knows that no single recruiting approach is the right one for every client's search, so he takes great care to understand this. Brad has recruited the most challenging of assignments, and in his 12 years of aviation recruiting experience has built one of the largest professional networks in the industry.

Brad is passionate about finding the right talent for his clients.
